

Cultural Liaisons

South Washington County Schools

Cultural Liaisons work in collaboration with school staff, families and the community through the South Washington County Schools Office of Achievement and Integration. They are advocates for equity and inclusion, who empower and support families to promote student success.

Cultural Liaisons commonly support students with cultural adjustment, social emotional development, academic success, leadership skills, and career and college readiness. Liaisons are available to help any District 833 student.

If you have questions or would like to talk to a Cultural Liaison, contact the main office of your child's school or the liaison at the email or phone number provided below.
